

STATEMENT

I declare that enclosed substitute specification contains no new matter.

Note:

Making the substitute specification started from published application US2007-0199431 downloaded from the USPTO site. So, it has paragraph number.

The specification has been amended by following reason:

- (1) German word "takt" has been replaced by English word "beat". As word "beat" has plural meanings, definition of the word in this specification has been added in paragraph [0002]
- (2) Spelling errors have been corrected
- (3) Grammatical errors have been corrected
- (4) Ambiguous words have been replaced or alternative expressions have been added
- (5) Two numbers in paragraph [0051] have been replaced by correct numbers. These were mistyped when translated from original Japanese application. Before correction, these numbers are nonsense.
